Description

I tried to delete my /Home/gianpaolo.coro/Workspace/DataMiner/ folder and its inner folders first. As a result, after several hours of attempts, I have obtained that the main DM folder contains only an "Input Data Sets" folder that makes the WS interface refresh itself once clicked, because of some hidden issue behind the scenes. Deleting the DataMiner folder and refreshing the trash is a combination of actions that could run even a Saint out of patience :-). Something should be done urgently about big folders deletion.

Is it possible to make my folder work again, please? Without that I cannot even use the DataMiner.
