Could you check also if this host is monitored by ganglia or nagios. if it is not, could you add a nagios check?

#2 - Nov 05, 2015 12:54 PM - Andrea Dell'Amico

There are no nagios nor ganglia monitoring.

I was told that the service was going to be dismissed as part of the imminent upgrade. If it's not the case, I'll add it to nagios and ganglia. On what ganglia cluster?

This is a web app running on tomcat. It is not managed by smartgears but I guess it could be added to Smartgears cluster because In the future, I guess, this application could be managed by smartgears

#5 - Nov 17, 2015 05:54 PM - Andrea Dell'Amico

- Status changed from New to In Progress

#6 - Nov 17, 2015 06:15 PM - Andrea Dell'Amico

- % Done changed from 0 to 80

I've added an upstart script: /etc/init/cotrix.conf and tested it (the instance was stopped since the last outage, btw).

#7 - Nov 17, 2015 06:17 PM - Andrea Dell'Amico

I also removed the /etc/init.d/cotrix script: it didn't set the right username, so it was dangerous.

#8 - Nov 17, 2015 07:24 PM - Andrea Dell'Amico

- Status changed from In Progress to Closed

- % Done changed from 80 to 100

cotrix.d4science.org is now part of the smartgears ganglia cluster.
