Description
Check svn configuration of dataminer-ghost-d.dev.d4science.org. The DataMiner ghost in dev should point to the algorithms/dev directory of svn.

History

The dataminer ghost: dataminer-ghost-d.dev.d4science.org is an ALIAS of dataminer1-devnext and it is not present in the playbook. I don't know why.

Because it's an alias :-). I remember that when the DM service was in development, it was decided to use one of the existing dev dataminer. The DM installation was done manually.

- Status changed from New to Rejected

- % Done changed from 0 to 100

I'm going to close this ticket since the ghost is just an alias and the dm installation was done manually.
If you need a ghost in dev you should open a new VM request.
