I would like to see the creation date in the table (e.g. to order).

Please, do take into account that also the "termination time" is in the spec and can be obtained with the "right click" you described yet it was decided to put it in the table also.

Moreover, the date reported in the "spec" is the definition date that does not correspond to the deployment date. Do we need both? I would say yes :)

BTW this is a requirement, definitely not a urgent one ;)

We don't have the deployment date time, do we @lucio.lelii@isti.cnr.it ?

We have the start time. The start time is the date when the definition of the VRE is started, for now you can report this information. Since we are moving to a new service for VREs creation I think is not a good idea to change the VREModeler API. @leonardo.candela@isti.cnr.it, do you agree?
