Description

In order to release Dataminer in production environment, we need to generate tokens. Thus, the Authorization portlet should be made available.

History

- Priority changed from Normal to Urgent

#2 - Dec 10, 2015 06:36 PM - Massimiliano Assante

in Which VREs do you need it?

#3 - Dec 10, 2015 06:44 PM - Gianpaolo Coro

- Status changed from New to In Progress

At least in BiodiversityLab, Scalable Data Mining and BiOnym.

#4 - Dec 10, 2015 07:01 PM - Massimiliano Assante

- Status changed from In Progress to Feedback

@lucio.lelii@isti.cnr.it please add the authorisation to the scopes:

- gCubeApps/BiOnym
- gCubeApps/BiodiversityLab
- gCubeApps/ScalableDataMining

- Assignee changed from Massimiliano Assante to Lucio Lelii

The portlet is in place on imarine Gateway, on Biodiversity and Bionym, https://i-marine.d4science.org/group/biodiversitylab

However there is some issue with the underlying service at the moment. Lucio is looking into it.

I have added the Service to the scopes, now the token generation works on Biodiversity but i cannot see the portlet on BiOnym

Just a bug @massimiliano.assante@isti.cnr.it : if you generate a token, then press X on the token, then you are no more able to generate the token again. In fact, if you press the button again the entire Portal freezes (!!!). You need to shut the browser window down to be able to use the portal again. I also think that the previous connections remain pending.
