History

#1 - Mar 22, 2016 07:11 PM - Andrea Dell'Amico

- Status changed from New to In Progress

The log level is already set as info by the playbook.

On the production servers, were the logs are at info level, they are using 4GB of space and they seem completely under control.

I see that the logs were set to debug on couchdb01-d-d4s.d4science.org only, and it was a manual operation.
