I was able to setup a script that does the Job, however I don't have permission to write to LDAP. Tommaso is working on this.

In the meantime we may decide the policy to adopt in case of user conflict. What should the script do if it finds that user pasquale.pagano at ISTI.. already exists in LDAP?

#5 - Jul 20, 2015 03:41 PM - Massimiliano Assante

if it finds an already existing user it will update the user password regardless

One small quirk:

the main ldap server uses 'givenName' for the First name, 'cn:' for "first name last name", 'sn' for the last name

You are exporting 'sn:' as first name and 'cn:' as last name.

Can you change and use the main ldap convention? It's the standard one.

#9 - Jul 22, 2015 11:32 AM - Massimiliano Assante

ok I'll stick with the ldap convention
