| The transfer-library component has been deleted on Etics. This library is not meant to interact with the DataTransfer service, but rather contains several tools to optimize HTTP and FTP downloading. CERN people developed this library and it contains much of their competence in this domain. Further, it is a dependency of StatMan and of its dependent libraries. Please, could you restore this component? |  |                        |              |

History

#1 - Jun 24, 2016 11:35 AM - Gianpaolo Coro

Hi, any news on this ticket?

#2 - Jun 24, 2016 11:44 AM - Gabriele Giammatteo

if you refer to ETICS configurations, data-transfer-library is there, but only in the gCore release for the moment. If needed in the smartgears release we can move it there (if it does not depend on gCore).

If you do not refer to ETICS, please provide more context

- Status changed from New to In Progress

#4 - Jun 24, 2016 11:51 AM - Gianpaolo Coro

I was referring to Etics. We had not seen it in the gcore release. If it is there, please move it to the smartgears release.

#5 - Jun 24, 2016 11:55 AM - Gabriele Giammatteo

moved. It is the called org.gcube.data-transfer.transfer-utils.1-0-0-1

#6 - Jun 24, 2016 11:55 AM - Gabriele Giammatteo

- Status changed from In Progress to Feedback

#7 - Jun 24, 2016 12:05 PM - Gianpaolo Coro

I'm testing it through a Etics compilation.
