Done. They just need to complete their registration on manage.research-infrastructures.eu.

I am confused. Access should be given to user belonging to the gCube VRE. Are they members of that VRE?

#4 - May 17, 2017 06:01 PM - Massimiliano Assante

It is not automatic and should not be automatic. gCube VRE contains too many people which should not be authorised to gCube SVN.

#5 - May 17, 2017 06:32 PM - Andrea Dell'Amico

@massimiliano.assante@isti.cnr.it we talked about two new VREs, some days ago: gcube-developers and dnet-developers (those names are as examples only). We could create them and use them to give access to subversion. Can you open the related ticket if the proposal is viable?

The discussion has confused CLS, and should not occur here they thought SVN access has not been given. But it has right @andrea.dellamico@isti.cnr.it ?
