The Resource Registry needs the creation of the contexts it has to respond to. As we agreed you have to provide me a java class providing the list of all the production contexts.

I am a bit surprised by this request. The list you are looking for is available through the current IS.
If you query the IS in a VO scope for all Generic Resource with subtype VRE you get the list of VREs deployed in that VO. If you iterate for the list of VOs then you get all the available contexts.

Please notice that the list of available VO should be registered at root level in the IS but it does not. This is an error since the VO resource is registered as Generic Resource in the VO context itself but it should be registered in the root VO as well. I invite either @roberto.cirillo@isti.cnr.it or @lucio.lelii@isti.cnr.it to fix this issue.
